Owner Chris Hewell is a true visionary! Able to see beyond the dilapidated plywood enclosed front porch, overgrown yard, and rusted chain link fence, he envisioned the underlying beauty of this 1920s Craftsman Bungalow. Following decades of neglect, he started this amazing transformation by reopening the front porch, refinishing the original French doors, fresh paint, trimming and lots of weed pulling! With plenty of elbow grease, Chris has turned this home into a shining star again. His work is testimony to the value of rehabbing tired old homes and renewed enjoyment of wide front porches! – Brenda Gordon
